Hitler Against Christianity
(The Beginning of a New Pagan Empire)

Hitler always rejected christianity as a foreign idea, alien to the pure racial culture of the germans. "The ancient times" said, "where better than the present times because there was not christiandom and syphilis". This was Hitler's criticism on christianity:

1. It was a religion which supported the weak and the oppressed.
2. It's principles where obviously jewish and eastern. The christians "bent their backs to the sound of the bell and crawl before the cross of a foreign god".
3. This religion rooted before 2.000 years through sick, oppressed and desperate people.
4. The christian principles of "forgiving the sins, the ressurection and the salvation" where just foolish.
5. The christian idea of "mercy" was dangerous. We must not show mercy on our enemies. "Mercy is a non-german ideal".
6. The christian love was rediculous. Love is weak.
7. The christian idea of equality among all the people means that the low, the sick, the crippled and the weak should be protected.

For that, Hitler said, christianity, just like Judaism, was against the Nazi ideals which he had established for Germany. Soon Hitler started a war against the Protestant and Catholic church. He tried to control the 29 different protestant churches which existed in Germany. In the beginning, gathering power to strike, he did nothing. Then, in 1935, he stated the supremacy of the Nazi state on the protestant church. He shut down the ecclisiastic schools and took all the church's profits. He sent away many pastors and forbided to others to preach.

Those who dared to rise their voice, they were sent to issolated villages. He would devastate the protestant power with a slow proceeding of decay.

Many pastors refused to bow before the Swastika. The famous professor of Heidelburg and leader of the german protestants, dr. Karl Barth, refused to vow to Hitler and he was dismissed from his position in 1935. The protestant pastor dr. Martin Niemoler, rector of the rich Berlin suberb of Dachlem was arrested in 1937 and prosecuted for peremptory actions. The court acquited him, but Gestapo arrested him again and sent him to a concentration camp. Soon the Nazi propaganda point have been aimed against the catholics. It accused the catholic church for being an international organisation loyal to the pope and not to Hitler.

For the Nazis, the moral of the christians fit only to a slave level and not to a powerful Aryan state like Germany. Hitler had the right to control the entire education of the german youth and forbided to the lot the right to conduct the spirit and soul of the youth.

First of all, Hitler opposed the basic teachings of christ, especially the golden rule of not doing to others what you dont want them to do to you and he couldn't understand the idea of global peace.

The struggle which started between Hitler and the catholic church was marked with violence. Hitler arrested monks and nuns and accused them for furtive exportation of gold from Germany. He censored the Catholic press. He forbid the catholic processions and the papal circulars. He tried to put by force catholic youngsters in Hitlerjugend. He also startted a series of monk trials with the accusation of immorality anf furtive exportation of exchange.
Many Nazi stems rejected totaly christianity. In it's place, they wanted to create a pagan religion of "Blood, Race and Earth". They wanted to return to their ancestors' rituals. The neo-heathens ressurected Wotan, Thor and the ancient pro-christian Teutonic Gods. Instead the Old Testament, they accepted the Nordic legends and created a new holy trinity - Bravery, Loyality and Power.
In some churches, above the shrine, Hitler's picture was placed and candles where lit before it.
This would arouse the "good, old, healthy Nordic insticts".
In 1937, Hitler granted the National Price, the german equal to Nobel price, to Alfred Rosenberg, enemy of christianity and leader of the neo-heathens. The Nazi philosopher Rosenberg, wanted a return to the old Teutonic religion of Fire and Sword.
This was just the beginning. The last word have not yet been spoken. Loyal to the visions of Hitler and Rosenberg, we will carry on the strife for the creation of a mighty, pan-european pagan Empire... SIEG HEIL!
